DETAILED ACTION

Inventorship

1. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Specification

2. The specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hosotani et al. (US 6,469,913 – supplied by applicant).

Claim 11; Hosotani et al. disclose a switching power-supply unit (figure 2) comprising: an inductor (L) or a transformer (T); a plurality of switching elements (Q1, Q2) switching a current flowing in the inductor or the transformer and converting power (V_{in} to V_o) by turning on and off the switching elements (Q1, Q2); and a switching control circuit (11, 12, 14 etc.) that turns on the next of the plurality of switching elements in accordance with a change of a voltage or a current generated due to turning off of one of the switching elements in an ON-state (col. 11 lines 60-67; col. 12 lines 1-5), that sequentially turns on and off the switching elements in association with each other, that repeats a series of on-off operations of the switching elements periodically, that determines an ON-period of each of the switching elements in accordance with a condition independently provided for each of the switching elements, and that controls the ON-period of each of the switching elements (col. 12 lines 7-50).

Claim 12; wherein a dead time in which two consecutive ones of the plurality of switching elements are turned off is provided between ON-periods of the two switching elements, and wherein the dead time is arranged in accordance with a delay time from turning off of the switching element in the ON-state and turning on of the next switching element (figure 3: e.g. t_2 - t_3 / t_4 - t_5).

Claim 13; wherein the dead time is set such that the switching element is turned on when a voltage across the switching element becomes zero or is reduced to near zero (col. 10 lines 20-39).

Claim 14; wherein the switching control circuit turns on the next of the plurality of switching elements using a voltage at the inductor or the transformer generated due to turning off of the one of the plurality of switching element in the ON-state (col. 11 lines 60-67; col. 12 lines 1-5; col. 12 lines 7-50).

Claim 15; wherein the switching control circuit detects an output voltage to a load to determine the ON-period in accordance with the output voltage (figure 2; c.g. 14).

Claims 16-20; wherein the switching control circuit detects a change or a polarity of a voltage generated at the inductor or the transformer to determine the ON-period (col. 10 lines 20-39; col. 11 lines 60-67; col. 12 lines 1-5; col. 12 lines 7-50).

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. US 6,061,252 Hosotani discloses a switching power supply device; US 5,570,278 Cross discloses a clamped continuous flyback converter.
